About Awareness programme on Women Empowerment

Women's empowerment programs aim to grant women greater access to opportunities in education, economy, politics, and society, ensuring their equal participation and contribution to development. Initiatives like India's Mission Shakti and the Beti Bachao, Beti Padhao (BBBP) scheme focus on safety, security, health, and education for women and girls

Key Aspects of Women's Empowerment Programs

- Safety and Security:

Programs address violence against women through initiatives like the Women Helpline (181-WHL) and One Stop Centers, providing support and legal protection.

- Education and Health:

Schemes like BBBP aim to improve the declining Child Sex Ratio and promote girls' education. Others focus on maternal and child health through nutrition initiatives and cash incentives.

- Economic Empowerment:

This includes providing access to employment, skill-building, and financial support through various programs, enabling women to become financially independent.

- Political Participation:

Programs seek to make women equal partners in nation-building by increasing their involvement in governance and decision-making processes.

- Social Inclusion:

Empowering women also involves creating a supportive environment where they can participate fully in cultural and social life, free from discrimination.

Benefits to Students:

- Increased Knowledge and Awareness:

Students learn about social, legal, and constitutional rights, helping them to understand and combat discrimination, exploitation, and gender-based violence.

- Enhanced Self-Confidence and Self-Esteem:

Through education and skill-building, students develop positive self-esteem, the ability to make informed decisions, and a stronger sense of personal capability.

- Development of Empathy and Social Responsibility:

Exposure to the challenges and needs of disadvantaged women fosters empathy, compassion, and a desire to contribute to positive social change.

- Understanding of Gender Equality:

Students gain a deeper appreciation for the importance of gender equality in all spheres of life, from education and employment to leadership and decision-making.

- Critical Thinking and Challenge to Harmful Practices:

Awareness programs encourage students to identify and challenge deep-rooted gender biases, stereotypes, and harmful cultural practices such as dowry and child marriage.

- Skills for Decision-Making and Action:

Students learn about opportunities for skill development, higher education, and access to resources, empowering them to make choices about their futures and take action for empowerment.

- Motivation to be Agents of Change:

The programs inspire students to become advocates for women's rights and to take steps towards building a more inclusive and equitable society, both in their communities and beyond.

- Leadership and Communication Skills:

Activities like debates, slogan writing, and discussions provide a platform for students to express their ideas and develop valuable leadership and communication skills.

Conclusion:

The awareness programme concluded with a vote of thanks by Kum. Manya D Final B.Com student, she thanked the Guests, students, and faculty for their active participation. The session successfully created awareness about the opportunities available under the Women Empowerment and encouraged students to think beyond future.
